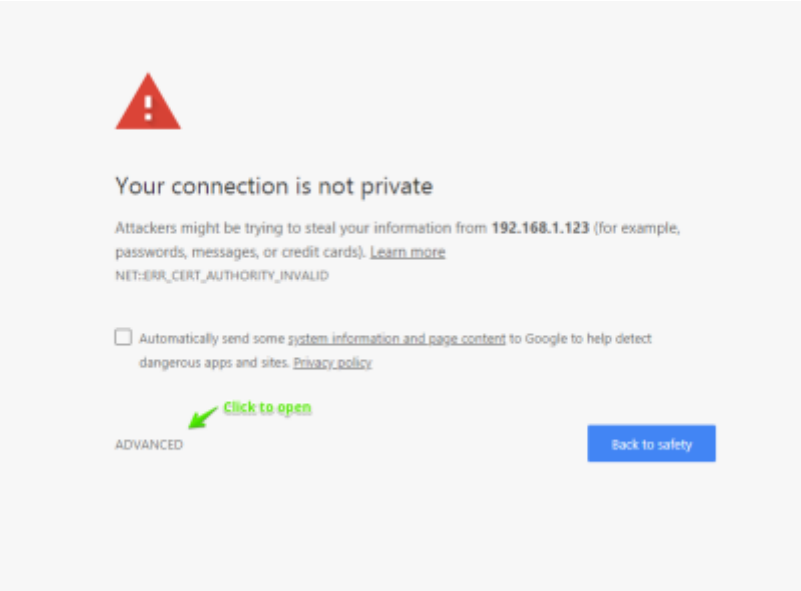
Table of Contents

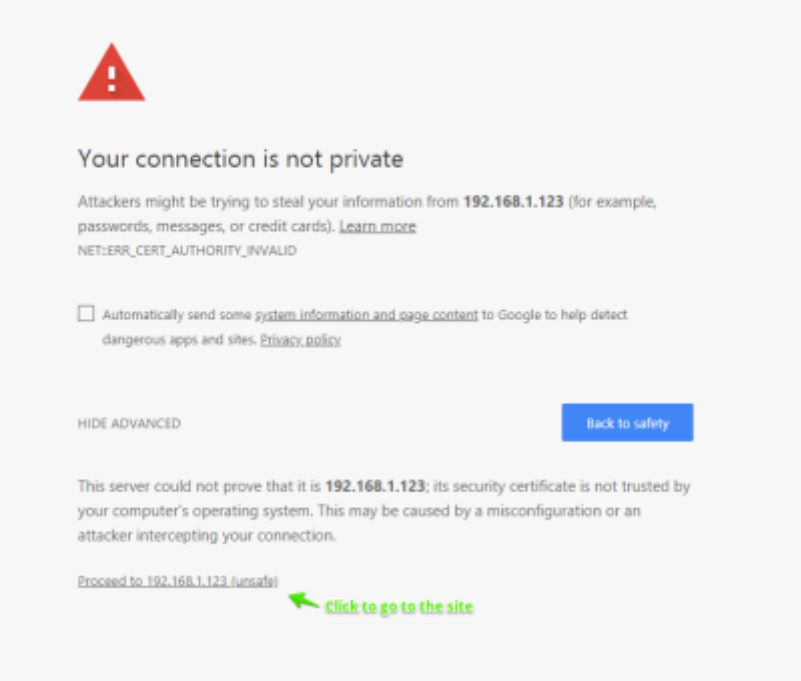
Authorization and first launch 3

Authorization and first launch

Since a self-signed ssl certificate is installed, the window that follows will appear in the browser (in different browsers it appears in different ways, in the screenshot below Google Crome is shown):

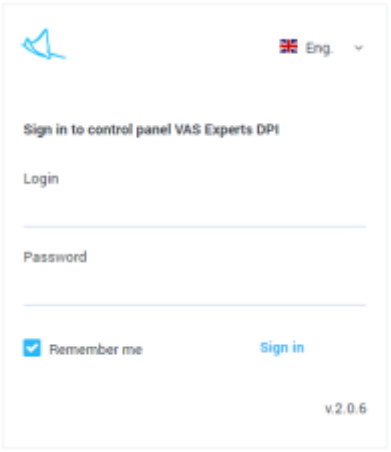


Click on "ADVANCED" to open. The window will appear:



Press "Proceed to ..." to the site.

At the first start the login window opens. You need to supply a username and a password.



If the "Remember me" check box is selected the session is remembered and the authorization is no longer required.

During the installation the following user is created by default:

1. Login - admin
2. Password - vasexperts

If you are logged in for the first time, you need to configure the hardware. See the section Managing the list of devices